

Ayer's Sarsaparilla Makes Good Blood

Prick your skin with a needle. You will see that it is full of blood. But what kind of blood? Rich and pure? Or thin and impure? Impure blood covers the skin with eczema, rashes, pimples, pustules, salt-rheum, boils, carbuncles, and other sores. These simply tell of something bad down deep in the blood itself. Ointments, washes, powders and cosmetics will not reach the evil. You must take out all impurities from the system with and then see how quickly the skin troubles will disappear.

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

CONTEMPT CITATION FOR NOT ACCEPTING MONEY

A citation was issued out of the circuit court yesterday against Emma Dreier, commanding her to appear in court and show cause, if cause she has, why she should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failure to comply with the terms of the decree of the court in the matter of the estate of her late husband, August Dreier.

The citation was issued on motion of Cecil Brown, trustee under the will of August Dreier, the motion being supported by an affidavit sworn to by A. A. Wilder. The affidavit states that Cecil Brown, defendant in an action brought by Mrs. Dreier, has in accordance with the decree in said action, paid to Mrs. Dreier the sum of $20,000, less $47,000.00 which Mrs. Dreier refused to accept. It is also stated that Mrs. Dreier refuses to abide by the court's order to execute and deliver to Cecil Brown a release from her dower rights in the estate of her late husband.

COST OF LIVING.

The cost of living has apparently reached its highest point and the necessities of life are gradually returning to more reasonable figures. Very recent quotations on staples indicate that a general rearrangement of prices is being made and that the revisions are in a downward direction.

Flour, generally regarded as the main staple article of food supply, is considerably cheaper than it was a few weeks ago, and there is every indication that a further reduction will come.

P. L. Waldron, who handles an immense quantity of foodstuffs every month, is authority for the forecast that the immediate future will see a decided reduction in the cost of living and that practically all articles of food will be quoted at prices considerably below those which now prevail.

The cost of meats continues high and there seems to be but little prospect of any immediate change in that direction. At present it is possible to buy the best grade of canned meats in Australia, import them into this Territory, pay freight and duty, and then sell them at a figure considerably below any quotation which it is possible to make on domestic meats. This state of affairs has been laid at the door of the meat trust, but the underlying reason seems to be the actual shortage of the meat supply.

The most radical advance in the price of commodities began in 1908 and foodstuffs went up by leaps and bounds during the next two years. Now for the first time since the advance started there has been a decided break, and with the exception of meats it looks as though food prices will now begin to ease off.

Wheat flour, which between the years of 1896 and 1907 never fluctuated more than 20 cents a barrel, in 1908 jumped from $3.35 to $4.10 a barrel, and in 1909 went up to $5.40. On April 12 the quotation was upward of $6.

Hogs have fluctuated more or less for the past fifteen years. In 1896 prime live hogs were quoted on the Pacific Coast at $3.40 per hundred. The price advanced to $7 in 1907, but fell the next year to $5.85. Last November the quotation was $8, while on April 12 the Coast quotation was $10.50.

Beef, which sold at $4.65 per 100 pounds in 1896, fluctuated between $6 and $7.35 per 100 during the next eight years. In 1909 the price advanced to $9 and on April 12 the Coast quotation was considerably higher.

Mutton sold in 1896 at 51-2 cents per pound. The price advanced gradually until 1909 when 91-2 cents was reached. On April 12 the Coast quotation was 13 cents.

Probably the greatest advance is noticeable in barreled pork, however. In 1896 the quotation was $8.25 per barrel. By gradual steps the price increased until 1909 when $25.75 per barrel was reached. On April 12 the Coast quotation was $35.

The advance along other lines have been proportionate. In 1896 81-2 cents a pound was the quotation for No. 1 native steer hides. By November 1, 1909, the price had advanced to 171-2 cents.

Southern cotton sheeting which in 1896 sold at 43-4 cents per yard, were quoted the end of last year at 71-2 cents.

ALIEA WELL ALONG.

Harvesting and grinding on Honolulu plantation is considerably farther along than it was at this time last year. Though the total of the year's crop will be approximately the same as that of last year, the mill has been carrying on its work faster and in consequence a much better record is being made.

Within a very few weeks the last of the Aliea crop will be out of the way and the mill will be ready to close down for the season.

Conditions have been very favorable on Aliea this season and the plantation's output will be fully up to the manager's estimate. The quality of the juice is running high and altogether everything is satisfactory, according to report.

The outlook for the 1911 crop is reported to be excellent. The growing cane is coming along in fine shape and the long ratoons in particular give promise.

THERMOMETER AND BANKNOTES

Interisland Traveler Notes Peculiar Freak of Defective Eyesight.

When the steamer Claudine arrived here yesterday morning from Hawaii and Maui, she was one passenger short. Since there was an outbreak of contagious disease on Hawaii, the quarantine officials have been boarding the interisland boats and examining the passengers, and thus the shortage was discovered. The Claudine was passed yesterday, despite the fact that a man was missing. He was a Japanese. Whether he stole ashore somewhere or jumped overboard, will probably forever remain a mystery.

Another feature of the territorial quarantine service which is new to travelers was an assessment for being examined. Two dollars per passenger of passengers at Honolulu, on the Mauna Loa. The examining doctor apparently went through the passengers with care. He took temperatures with a thermometer of the usual kind. One passenger didn't have the change to give him the $2 charge levied for this examination, and offered a twenty dollar banknote. The result appeared to involve the temperature examination in some mystery.

"The doctor," said the passenger in question, "needed glasses to tell whether it was a two dollar bill or a twenty dollar bill, and he couldn't make sure without help, even with glasses. I really could not help wondering how he had read the small figures on the mouth-thermometer with which he took my temperature, if he couldn't make out the figures on a good American twenty. However, he passed me. I had an attack of malaria and think my temperature was about a hundred and three. But I passed, and so did the twenty. I cannot be blamed for thinking that the figures on the twenty were examined with far more care than those on the thermometer."

THE CAMPBELL ESTATE.

An inventory of the property of Mary Beatrice Campbell which has come into the hands of her guardian, Robert W. Shingle, was filed in the circuit court yesterday morning. The most important item is her contingent one-fourth interest in the income of the estate of James Campbell, which becomes available upon her reaching her majority or upon her marriage. Another important item is her one-fifth interest in the income of the estate of A. K. C. Parker. A residue of the other items is as follows: Horse and carriage, $1,600; jewelry, $5,500; feather fans, $2,500; furniture in the Roman street residence, $200; silverware and plate, $216.

At Moultrie an electric fell on an automobile, in which were three women and two children. Nobody, including the victim, was much hurt.

COOPER RULES AGAINST HOLT

Ex-Tax Assessor Must Answer For Defying Territorial Grand Jury.

James L. Holt, the ex-assessor who is charged with embezzlement, must answer the citation to show cause, why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for refusing to tell the territorial grand jury where he got his information as to the deliberations of that body when considering his own case. Judge Cooper yesterday rendered a decision denying the motion of Holt's attorneys to quash the citation. This leaves it up to Holt to explain.

The prosecution is reasonably sure as to the identity of the treacherous grand jurymen who kept Holt informed as to the action of the inquisitors in the matter, but the grand jury as a body and the court want to corroborate their knowledge from the lips of the accused ex-governor official. It will probably go hard later on with the guilty grand jurymen who perjured himself and betrayed his fellows.

Holt has still to stand trial on the indictment charging him with stealing the Territory's money.

Exceptions Allowed.

The supreme court has allowed the bill of exceptions of the plaintiff in the case of Manuel Garcia by his next friend Antonio versus the Kekaha Sugar Company. Garcia sued for $15,000 damages for the loss of a leg which he claimed had been crushed by one of the cane trains of the defendant company, but the trial jury found in favor of the defendant.

Divorce Court.

Fujimo Kagemoto has filed suit for divorce from Tonosuke Kagemoto on the ground of desertion and non-support.

A divorce has been granted Katono Akizuki from Katono Akizuki on the ground of non-support.

Speckles Matter.

May 25 has been set as the date for the hearing of the petitions for the appointment of an ancillary administrator of the Hawaiian estates of Claus Speckels and Anna C. Speckels.

Thomas Investigating.

An investigation is being conducted by Revenue Agent Thomas into the affairs of the local internal revenue department. It is understood that there is a possibility that some of the department and tape has been somewhat tangled but no serious violations of the regulations are apprehended. The facts may be presented to the grand jury.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)
Miss Jean Center leaves for the mainland by the Siberia.
Paul De Kerfort, the Russian representative here to investigate the condition of Russian immigrants, is a passenger on the Wilhelmnia for the island of Hawaii.

News was received by cable yesterday of the death of Mrs. D. G. Webber, at Grass Valley, California. She was a daughter of Mrs. M. A. Gonsalves of this city. Mrs. Gonsalves arrived at Grass Valley yesterday, having gone there to visit her daughter.

Mrs. W. A. Wilson, who passed through as a passenger on the Siberia on Monday, in company with her husband, is Mrs. Ida Mansfield Wilson, actress and authoress. The couple have recently become reunited, the artistic temperament of his wife having displeased the husband, leading to a separation for six years.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

A son was born on April 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen at Kekaha, Kauai.

Miss Adeline Corren, who is "Central" when she is at home at Lihue, is visiting with friends in the city.

Mrs. K. Kanikula was found dead in her bed yesterday morning by a Chinaman who became suspicious over her non-appearance for three days and searched the house. Her death is ascribed to consumption.

Alexander Young is recovering from the attack he suffered Tuesday and is pronounced out of danger. His physicians state that there will be no ill effects from the attack, and his friends are happy over his recovery.

Miss May Keikilani, granddaughter of the Hon. J. K. Kapuni, became the bride of William I. Maby on April 7. Both are well-known young people of Waimea, Kauai, the ceremony having been performed in the Waimea church.

George B. McClellan, secretary to Delegate Kuhio, writes to local correspondents that on April 6 he went before the committee on merchant marine and fisheries and spoke in favor of the coastwise suspension measure, and immediately after he retired the committee went into executive session and passed a resolution favorable to the measure.

Judge and Mrs. S. B. Dole will leave this morning for Waialua. They will return on Monday.

Governor Frear has appointed A. A. Wilder a regent of the College of Hawaii, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of ex-Judge Woodruff.

Doctor Irwin telephoned from Waialua last evening that a large number of Waialua men saw the comet yesterday morning at four-thirty o'clock. He states that the comet's tail was quite visible and the atmosphere being clear, no difficulty was experienced in getting a line on the comet's tail.

LIQUOR MEN TO START A PAPER

Honolulu is to have another newspaper, to be launched very shortly. The paper will be printed in Hawaiian and will be the official organ of the liquor interests in the coming fight on the prohibition question. After the plebiscite is taken, the paper, good will, advertising patronage and subscription books will be taken over by the Democrats and continued by them as their campaign organ.

The liquor men are preparing for a hard fight. They will have money to burn, and intend to scatter the ashes from Puna to Napali. They recognize the very obvious fact that the Hawaiians today are strongly for prohibition, but they cheerfully announce that money will change all that. They have figured how many Hawaiian votes it is going to take to give them a majority, and they have decided upon the price they intend to pay for that number of votes.

The prohibition forces are expecting John G. Woolley back early in May, and the hostilities are expected to start on his arrival. One wing of the liquor men desires to make the fight one against Woolley personally, having saved up the published reports of Woolley's speeches in the East and taken out the phrases in which he describes the Hawaiians as wards of the Nation and in need of protection. These are to be extensively quoted as showing that Woolley despises the Hawaiians and wants to classify them as Indians. The explanatory words accompanying these are to be carefully omitted.

The prohibitionists are girding up their loins also for the fray, and expect to carry the war into the enemy's country.

MONASTERY FOR COUSIN OF KAISER

FRANKFORT, April 9.—The Kaiser's cousin, Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia, eldest son of the late Prince Albrecht (regent of Brunswick), has embraced Roman Catholicism, has ceded his entire fortune to the Roman Catholic Church and has entered an Italian monastery as a monk.

Prince Frederick Henry has had a remarkable career. A few years ago he was exiled by the Kaiser, who ordered him never to return home. After wandering about in the southern countries he became sick at heart and sought consolation in the Roman church.

He gave up a life of pleasure for religion and finally decided to become a monk. He has abandoned his real name and rank and is known in the monastery simply as Brother Henry.

The fortune which he has ceded to the Roman Catholic Church in Italy is estimated at $1,250,000, and will be devoted solely to charitable and humane purposes. Brother Henry lives a hard life. He inhabits a bare stone cell and sleeps on a plank bed. He rises at five o'clock every morning and must scrub not only his own cell, but the long corridor outside it, besides a long flight of steps, working hard on his knees.

Many hours daily are spent in prayer and devotion. Other hours are devoted to manual labor in the monastery garden. It is altogether a strange contrast to the life of luxury and self-indulgence formerly lived by this prince of the house of Hohenzollern.

ALLEGED HIGHER UP IS ARRESTED

NEW YORK, April 20.—Frank N. Hoffert, president of the Premier Cigar Company, was arrested here today on the charge of bribery and conspiracy in connection with the irregularities of the Pittsburgh municipal government. Mr. Hoffert was released on $10,000 bail.
